

WAINWRIGHT U.F.A. & U.F.W.A CONSTITUENCY CONTENTION

Report of the Wainwright Constituency Association of the U.F.A. Convention, held in Wainwright, on Monday July 31st, in the Masonic Hall. Meeting was called to order by the President, Mr. H. Foreman, of Chauvin, who occupied the chair, during the convention. Fred M. Ford acted as secretary. The President and secretary gave short reports on the year's work, both mentioning the passing on of two of the Board of Directors, during the past year, namely Mr. D. A. McDougal of Greenshields, and Mr. C. T. Hill of Irma, who had been directors and later president of the association. Both these men had been members of the Board since its inception, in 1921. Mr. J. R. Love M.L.A., for the constituency, was then called on to give a short report on the last session of the Legislature. Mr. Love spoke at some length, re the different problems which the Government had to wrestle with and make special mention of the Rural Telephone problem and the proposed solution, which was the sale of the of the different local lines to local companies, at scrap prices. This had been done in some places and appears to be working out satisfactorily, Mr. Love said. Mr. Love also said mentioned the Wainwright highway, but left the main discussion on that problem to the Premier, who was to speak later. After the adjournment for lunch, Mr. H. E. Spencer, M. P. gave what was necessarily a short report on the C.C.F. convention, held just previously, at Regina. Mr. Spencer read the manifesto of the C.C.F. clause by clause and gave short explanations on each. Later a resolution was passed by the convention asking that the next annual convention of the U.F.A. reconsider the land policy which, as this had been left more or less vague at Regina, as each province had control of their own land policy. After giving Mr. Spencer a vote of thanks, the chairman called on Premier Brownlee, for a short address, to the Delegates. Mr. Brownlee took up the Telephone and gave prices at which the lines and equipment could be purchased. Mr. Brownlee gave as the main reason for selling the telephones instead of lowering the rates and the Government carrying on that this would necessitate lowering the rates in Calgary and other large centres and these were really the only part of the system paying at the present time. Brownlee also mentioned the difficulty of the Government in any attempt to finish the Wainwright highway at the present time owing to the scarcity of funds the difficulty in trying to raise money by the sale of lands. Numerous questions were asked the Premier which he was pleased to answer. After this the election of officers for the next year took place and the following were elected: Mr. H. Foreman, Chauvin, president; Mr. H. Lacey, Prospect Valley, vice-president and the following directors: Mr. A. Armon, Chauvin south; Mr. Geo. Leggett, Chauvin north; Mr. B. C. Lees, Edgerton, south; Fred M. Ford, Edgerton north; Mr. H. Jackson, Wainwright; Mr. M. Knutson, Irma. The meeting then adjourned after considering some resolutions.

At 7:30 p.m. the new Board held a short meeting and chose Fred M. Ford as Secretary-Treasurer and decided to have the Premier speak in the Theatre instead of the Masonic hall as at first intended.

At the public meeting in the evening Mayor Forsyth kindly consented to take the chair and introduced the speakers in a few humorous remarks. Mr. J. R. Love gave a short address and then the Premier was called on at 8:15 p.m.

Brownlee spoke for nearly two hours on the many problems of the day and certainly "clarified the air" so to speak, regarding some of the things which many people were expecting the Provincial Government to do and over which they had no jurisdiction, but which were really Federal matters. Mr. Brownlee made special mention of the Douglas System, which had been previously advocated for Alberta and showed that it would be absolutely futile as the Provincial Government would have no power to enforce a scheme of that kind but it would have to be entirely voluntary and so of no effect. He said, what we want is one real system for the provinces and not one for each province. Brownlee also spoke on the "acreage reduction" proposal and said he was in favor of it, not that he considered it a permanent solution but that he felt something had to be done to tide things over the real solution was forthcoming. He also touched on the question of taxation and stated that although he was accused of forgetting the taxpayers difficulties that there were only two new taxes imposed since the U. F. A. Government took office, the Gas Tax and Income Tax and this in spite of the relief provisions and many others. He also showed that Alberta was in the strongest financial position of any province west of the Great Lakes.

All of the accusations against the Brownlee Government were answered in a very lucid and convincing way. After the Premier had closed his speech, Mayor Forsyth gave everyone an opportunity to ask the Premier questions, however everyone present seemed to be satisfied with the clear and concise way the Premier had explained things and no questions were asked and the singing of the National Anthem brought the Convention to a close.

REMARKABLE RESULTS Deeply impressed a school inspector at Sofia, Bulgaria. Every time the teacher asked a question all the children put up their hands and never was a wrong answer given. The hearty congratulations of the inspector, however, so she confessed she had taught the pupils always to raise their hands when the inspector called; those who knew the answer to raise the right hand and those that did not, the left. She always called on the "right hand."

COURTESY AND DRIVING

Lack of Courtesy is the Cause of Most Automobile Accidents—Make it a Point to be Courteous and Treat the Other Fellow as You Would Have Him Treat You.

- 1 Consider the rights and privileges of others. Extend your courtesy to the highway.
- 2 Drive your car at a reasonable and proper speed at all times.
- 3 Give full and undivided attention to your driving.
- 4 Make full allowance for weather and road conditions.
- 5 Know your stopping distance.
- 6 Keep your breaks, lights and steering mechanism in good working order.
- 7 Don't insist upon the "right of way." Your life is much more important.

- 8 Watch the car ahead and know what is behind you.
 - 9 Never pass another vehicle on approaching the crest of a hill, or on a curve, bridge, railway grade crossing, or at any point where the view is obstructed.
 - 10 Keep to the right and carefully observe road markings and warning signs.
 - 11 Be extra careful when passing children or aged or infirm persons.
 - 12 Slow down when approaching pedestrians. Stop if in doubt.
 - 14 Remember that alcohol and gasoline do not make a good mixture.
 - 15 Familiarize yourself with traffic regulations—and observe them.
 - 16 Treat the other fellow as you'd like to have him treat you.
- Drive with Care, Courtesy and Common Sense.

It is quite possible many Town readers or persons receiving City daily papers may feel annoyed in finding many news items in the Wainwright Record that they have read some days before. It no doubt is annoying to them. But in fairness to our country and less favoured subscribers we cannot follow any other policy. Such news items will be read for the first time and therefore read news to many of our subscribers, while perhaps Town items would not interest them at all. So we must look at all our patrons as a whole, all treated alike and all treated right will always be policy of The Wainwright Record.

New Law Has Precedent

Death Penalty For Kidnappers In Year, 1965

If New York state legislators decide to enact a law providing the death penalty for kidnappers, as has been urged, they will have precedent in the colony's first English law, and precedent is dear to the legal mind.

On March 1, 1665—269 years ago—were promulgated the Duke of York's laws which named 12 offences for which the death penalty was inflicted. One of them was kidnapping. It read: "If any person forcibly stealth or carry away any man or mankind, he shall be put to death."

With the melting of the snow on the Swiss Alps six of 13 avalanche victims have been found. Three were above Locarno. The 13 were smuggling sugar and coffee across the frontier when the avalanche swept them from a pass and buried them under snow, ice and rock 3,000 feet below. Search for the remaining seven is being continued.

Work Of Banking Commission

Monetary System One Of Many Things To Be Studied

The terms of reference under which the banking commission of Lord Macmillan, Premier of the Province of Alberta, and Beaudry Leman, of the Banque Canadienne Nationale, Montreal, will inquire into the state's operations are:

It is desirable that the approaching periodic revision of the Bank Act shall be based on a complete and detailed examination of the provisions of the act and of the functions and operations of the banking system.

It is also desirable that such examination should include a study of the facilities now afforded by the Finance Act and a careful consideration of the advisability of establishing a central banking institution, and, if so established, of the relation of such central bank to existing banks and its proper authority and function to the operation of the banking system.

That such examination should also include a study of the entire monetary system of Canada, including credit, currency and coinage, particularly in their relation to commodity price movements and fluctuations in international exchange.

It is also advisable to consider whether and in what respects the banking institutions and the monetary system of Canada may be modified, extended or developed for the purpose of facilitating inter-imperial and international co-operation in public policies designed to promote the revival of domestic and foreign trade and enterprise and the general increase of employment and to insure a greater measure of stability in respect thereto.

RIVERBEND SCHOOL FOR GIRLS

Manitoba Institution Devoted To The Educational and Aesthetic Development Of Young Canadian Womanhood

Attended by success from its inception, Riverbend School for Girls, Winnipeg, will continue its work as a boarding and day school for girls with the reopening in September, according to the prospectus just off the press. A hundred per cent. academic record was again maintained when the 1933 results of the departmental examinations appeared in July, a tribute to the efforts of the teaching staff under the principalship of Miss Joan M. V. Foster, M.A., and to the dual advantage of limited enrolment and small classes, with consequent individual attention to the pupils.

The school was established in September, 1929, under the auspices of the United Church of Canada, starting with one building, the home of the late Sir James Aikins, bequeathed to the church for the purpose of giving western Canada one more cultural institution to fill a special need in a growing population. The following year a new building, to be used as a main school, was erected and the present group of three imposing structures includes also the former residence of Col. G. H. Aikins, K.C., a son of the original donor.

Regularly inspected by the department of education, the school has faced scrutiny with a proud record, its student body, fully aware of the significance of establishing tradition for their Alma Mater.

Riverbend began the fall term with a teaching staff of fourteen, with Miss Foster again as principal and instructress in history. All holding academic standing of a high order and with tested teaching experience, the members of the staff are specialists in pursuits devoted to the educational and aesthetic development of cultured Canadian womanhood. Assisting the principal are: Miss Barbara May Erith, B.A., London University, in English; Miss M. Mews, of the Margaret Eaton School, in Physical Education; Mrs. Donald Munroe, Manitoba Agricultural College, as house manager.

In the Junior school, presided over by Miss Laura Cull, are Miss Sadie M. Gregory, A.M., of Manitoba University, for grades V. and VI.; Miss Verma V. Vaux, for grades III. and IV.; Mrs. Gordon L. Jamieson, in the kindergarten and Mrs. Nina Ferguson Dempsey, A.T.C.M., L.A.R., in school singing and music appreciation; Mrs. C. M. Laing is the efficient secretary. Increased attention has been paid to the teaching of Grade XII, work, and the course of study, following in general that of the Manitoba school system, begins at the kindergarten and includes that grade.

Special emphasis, explains Miss Foster, is placed on those subjects which are most important from a cultural standpoint, such as, for example, English, French and music, the teaching of French, including conversation at meals, a French club, and other extra curricular activities which help to make it something more than a classroom subject.

From a graduate of the Margaret Eaton School of Physical Education, Toronto, pupils of Riverbend are given instruction in corrective gymnastics and physical education which includes practically all the indoor and outdoor sports of well-rounded living. Ideally situated on the wooded banks of the Assiniboine River, the school, capable of accommodating 180 pupils and with an attendance in its first few years between 120 and 180 including both day and boarding students, Riverbend with its new building providing model class rooms, gymnasium, music room, and dining hall, supplies a "school away from home" for the largest number of students.

Many names prominent in the social and church life of the west appear on its enlarged advisory council. Besides thirty-one from Winnipeg including Mrs. E. C. Harte, chataine of Government House, and Mrs. John Bracken, wife of the provincial premier, are Mrs. C. E. Armstrong, Moose Jaw; Mrs. Robert Porke, Pipestone; Mrs. C. P. Adams, Calgary; Mrs. F. Laird, Yorkton; Mrs. R. C. Wallace, Edmonton; Mrs. J. E. Brownlee, Edmonton; Mrs. W. C. Murray, Saskatoon; Mrs. T. A. Neelin, Brandon; Mrs. Douglas J. Thom, Regina; Mrs. M. E. Calgary, and Miss Alice Wile, Kenora.

With the distinguished patronage of His Honor Lieutenant Governor J. D. McGregor and Premier John Bracken, the school functions under a board of governors consisting of James A. Richardson, L.L.D.; D. C. Coleman, L.L.D.; Isaac Pitblado, K.C.; L.L.D.; G. H. Aikins, K.C.; Principal John Mackay, D.D.; Rev. J. A. Cormie, D.D.; Rev. J. W. Aikens, D.D.; W. M. Neal, L. F. Palk, J. Preventing Barn Fires

Adequate Use Of Salt Retards and Prevents Spontaneous Combustion

The Ontario Fire Marshals' records show that more barns are destroyed by fire originating from spontaneous combustion in hay than from any other cause except lightning in un-rod barns.

Harvest weather conditions in 1932 were so dangerous that more barn fires than ever were expected. Instead there were 278 fewer barns burned in Ontario and a decrease of 17 per cent. in the number of fires known to be caused by spontaneous combustion.

Credit for this is given to the more general use of salt. The adequate use of salt is the most certain way of retarding and preventing spontaneous ignition fires.

HANNAH

Golden Text: "A woman that feareth Jehovah, she shall be praised."—Proverbs 31:30.

Lesson: 1 Samuel, Chapters 1, 2.

Devotional Reading: Psalm 128.

Explanations and Comments

Hannah's Prayer For A Son, Chapter 1:9-11.—Hannah and Elkanah, her husband, went regularly every year to the sanctuary at Shiloh, there to worship and offer sacrifice at one of the great religious feasts, probably the Feast of Ingathering, or Feast of Tabernacles, which was held after the grape and olive harvest. The sanctuary was the tabernacle. The temple was not built until about a hundred years afterwards.

As was customary, after a portion of the sacrificial victim was burnt at the altar, and another portion had been given the priests, the family partook of the rest within the sanctuary precincts. But Hannah could not eat, for sad and bitter thoughts filled her mind as she contrasted her childless lot with that of Peninnah, Elkanah's other wife, who was blessed with many children. After the meal was over she presented herself in the temple to pray to Jehovah. Her prayer was accompanied by many tears, as, standing with her face toward the ark, she made her vow that if Jehovah would bless her with a boy she would consecrate him all the days of his life to Jehovah.

"Hannah prayed for a child from Jehovah," says the text. "And she conceived and bore three sons." Hannah's prayer was answered. She gave birth to a son, and she named him Samuel, for "I have asked him of the Lord." Hannah's prayer was answered. She gave birth to a son, and she named him Samuel, for "I have asked him of the Lord."

Hannah also declared that the child should be a Nazirite, one set apart to the Lord of which his unshaven head should be a token. The characteristic marks of the Nazirite were the retaining from wine and all intoxicating drinks, the letting the hair grow, and the avoidance of defilement by corpses.

"Every child in a truly Christian home is a dedicated child. He is committed to God's service in so far as he is capable of doing so. His name is written in the Book of Life, in pencil it is true, which may be rubbed out, but his name has been entered. He is nominated for the Heavenly Company and is being trained for it."—R. C. Prompt and Efficient

Member Of Detroit Automobile Club Tells Good Story

Depression or no depression, some American organizations continue to give prompt and efficient service. Take the case of the Detroit Automobile Club. A friend of ours who is a member of it thus writes:

"I had a little car smash recently, and presently received a letter from two lawyers demanding that I pay $225 for damages to the other car. As I felt the accident was not my fault, I sent the letter to the automobile club, and the next day two lawyers were struck by lightning. Personally, I think that is carrying things too far, but I suppose the automobile club knows what it is doing."—London Advertiser.

Canada's Hospitals

How well equipped the great majority of Canadian hospitals are is proved by the fact that out of the 893 given as the total, no fewer than 448 maintain their own X-ray departments, while 324 have their own clinical laboratories and 218 their physical therapy departments.

John Dwyer, who died recently in Thurles, Irish Free State, aged 90, was blind from early youth, but developed so fine a sense of touch that he could repair watches and clocks.

Egypt's imports of leather have declined 80 per cent. in the last four years.

Foretelling End Of World

Prophets Always Find Credulous People Who Believe Them

Once again a prophet has been made to look foolish by foretelling the end of the world on a certain date which has gone without anything happening. In this case it was a rich business man in London, who if he was sane enough to manage a successful business, ought to have been sane enough not to believe such tomfoolery. Yet he had sufficient faith in his beliefs to give away much of his wealth before the prescribed date, and unfortunately he persuaded a number of others to do the same. Today they are all sadder and wiser men.

It is strange that this sort of crankiness occurs from time to time. It has happened in nearly every country under the sun, and the procedure is the same in every instance. The prophet induces credulous people to whom he transmits his religious mania to give away almost everything they possess on the ground that they will stand a better chance of entering the Kingdom of Heaven if they are as penniless when they leave the world as when they came into it. The fact that the end of the world has been predicted often without result does not appear to deter other prophets from arising.

At Chatham, England, not far from London, is a huge building known as "Jerreel's Tower" about the size of Eaton's store in Toronto, which was erected about sixty years ago by a religious fanatic known as "Jerreel." He caused thousands of people to believe that the world would end on a specified day, and he caused a huge sum of money to build this place so that they would all assemble within the walls in preparation for the day, die together and pass into the Kingdom. Of course nothing happened, but a large number of dupes retained faith in him and felt that "Jerreel" was just a bit out of his reckoning. So they lived on in the immediate vicinity until they died, handing on the belief to their children, and although "Jerreel's Tower" is now a ruin inhabited only by rats, there are still some people occupying houses in the neighborhood who call themselves the "Jerreelites," and can be distinguished by their mode of dress.—St. Thomas Times-Journal.

Music That Endures

Old Composers' Work Outlasts Modern Song Hits

The mechanization of music has reduced a song hit's popularity to about three months, a society of composers and publishers complains. So the old order changeth. A composer's problem used to be to give a hearing to his song. Now he has to figure out a way to prevent it from being heard too much.

Still, those three B's—Bach, Beethoven and Brahms—seem able to hang something more than contempt from the familiarity of their tunes. It's the writers of blues that are blue.—Christian Science Monitor.

Cannot Be Classified

Two fishermen have caught a marine monster that defies classification at Tacoma, Washington. The strange creature has the head and body of a reptile and the tail and fins of a fish. Powerful jaws enclose fangs nearly an inch long. The body is large and muscular for about 18 inches behind the head, then tapers off rapidly into a dark, scaleless, reptile-like tail five feet in length.

VOYAGE OF DISCOVERY

Right Honourable W. L. Mackenzie King, Dominion Liberal Leader, now on a barn storming tour of the West, informed a picnic audience in Manitoba that he had not come west to discuss party issues. He had come rather to find out conditions at first hand. Seeing that Mr. King purports to represent a Western constituency, it is fitting that he should make an annual pilgrimage amongst his people to inform himself as to their needs. But a good guess would be that Mr. King is more concerned about the progress of the Wordsworth party in the West and how he will best contend against an invasion by the Socialist Party in the Liberal strongholds. Mr. King has a certain political sagacity as well as facility of speech, but whether he will be able to lead his party to victory is again a matter of some doubt.—Selected.

DROP THE TITLE

The Canadian Co-operative Commonwealth Federation might just as well discard its long-winded, high falutin', deceptive and misleading moniker and come out flatly as the Socialist Party of Canada. For that is exactly what it is—purely and simply Socialist. To call it by any other name does not add to its strength or increase its field of usefulness. Rev. J. S. Woodworth has been formally inaugurated as the head of the new party, and his theories about social revolutions are well known to Canadians. He doesn't actually advocate force to bring about economic reforms desired by his party, but failing to achieve his object by peaceful means—what then?—Selected.

The Co-operative Commonwealth Federation delegates and sympathizers have been wrestling at Regina to thresh out a platform for their cause and organization. Its main declarations are for the substitution of private ownership and control, where such private ownership and control have been used for the upbuilding of the power and wealth of the money lenders, by public ownership and control in the way of municipal, provincial and dominion management and operation. You may call it Socialism, if you like as the old party leaders are doing—it does not matter so long as the greater welfare of the common people is brought about, but, for God's sake, do not let your fears and prejudices be played upon by dominant selfish leaders of the present regime for their own gain. The latter will show how the active Socialists and the Communists will ruin us, and destroy us, and should be kept behind bars by Section 98 to save our country—anything so long as the people can be persuaded that the present economic and political party order is Divinely ordained and builds up patriotism and Imperialism—and a fair deal for the farmers and workers. Argue out the case. Think over the platforms and the advocates, recognize the weaknesses. But if better conditions are urgently needed, give the democratic and Socialist gospels decency in their presentation: do not be led away by fears that conditions may be worse. Greater equality of means and lives should be worth striving for; we do not want to live unalterably for selfishness and greed, for better position and more privilege than our fellows.

The editor has been reading and re-reading parts of "The Outline of History" by H. G. Wells, a prominent English novelist and historian—possibly Mr. Wells has had a share in the increasing world democratic movement. He pays little attention comparatively to rulers but gives the story of the evolutionary movement of mankind through the ages. The editor has been struck with the continuous efforts of "the left wing" to increase their liberties and better their conditions. We can see how the perpetual conflict for money (or trade), for territory, for power, for position for rank, for control, has caused the wave and swing, the ebb and flow of chiefs, of kings and queens, of emperors and empresses, of "power," and their near supporters, using tribes and races and nations, or such of their subjects as could be used, for antagonistic and predatory excursions and purposes. The fear of middle people that their rights and means would be lessened by the radicals has been a great obstacle in equality and progress: the "cringing obsequiousness" towards the upper classes was one of the phases of English life which was very noticeable this summer to one of the Alberta radical intelligentsia on his visit. Mr. Wells predicted that a time is coming when a clear-sighted generation will "read in perplexity how in the community of Western Europe, consisting everywhere of very slight variations of a common racial mixture of Nordic and Iberian peoples and immigrant Semitic and Mongolian elements, speaking nearly everywhere modifications of the same Aryan speech, having a common past in the Roman empire, common religious forms, common social usages, and a common art and science, and inter-marrying so freely that no one could tell with certainty the "nationality" of any of his great-grandchildren, men could be moved to the wildest excitement upon the question of the ascendancy of "France," the rise and unification of "Germany," the rival claims of "Russia" and "Greece" to possess Constantinople—now the capital of the modern Turk. And today he would have added the United States and Canada, as common possessors of the same inheritance. But we are fighting for territorial and subject "rights," "economic nationalism" is dominant, and we are loaded with debt and taxation, largely the result of defence and war.

The C.C.F. is organized on a federal basis—provincial farmer organizations. Socialist leagues, and other progressive causes—from "the right" of the U.F.O. and our friend Mr. Speakman, to "the left" of the radicals who cannot see progress for the common farmer and the common workingman without force, though the Regina convention would not tie to force in its platform. President Woodworth comes from Winnipeg and its insurgent pages of history, but he holds the confidence of his riding and the Dominion by his personal character and courageous brotherly aims and outlook. We can well afford to support the C.C.F. as it is presented here in the U.F.A., with its "right" and its "left" members, and not fuss about "Socialism": that will take some time yet. There is no question but that "the brotherhood of man, the federation of the world" is the vision to keep before us.—Red Deer Advocate.

The voluntary work contributed by the Municipal District of Gilt Edge at the Cemetery is now completed. This work consists of clearing unoccupied ground, gravelling walks and driveways, removing loose earth and improving graves of a number who apparently had no one interested in the appearance of their resting place. The work has added greatly to the appearance of the Cemetery. The Committee from the Municipal District, consisting of Councillors Beasley and Withnell, as well as the men, assisting in the work, deserve credit for their interests and labor.

Since the completion of this work, your Committee has employed a man for a few days, raking over the ground in both cemeteries, generally cleaning up and burning rubbish. This, we believe, will complete work at the Cemetery for the present season.

We trust that Council will bear in mind the necessity of establishing a building on these grounds before the arrival of cold weather as a suitable building is vital necessity during the winter months.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

On motion, the report of the Committee on Parks & Cemetery was accepted and incorporated in the proceedings of the meeting.

The Town of Wainwright was unanimously resolved that Town Constable be instructed to summon all residents of the Town of Wainwright having dogs which they have failed to register in the year 1933 and for which they have failed at this date to pay the fee required under By-Law No. 192, of the Town of Wainwright.

On motion, it was unanimously resolved that the improvements on Lot Six (6) in Block Fifteen (15) Plan 6442 be assessed 1/4ly Council for the year 1933 at its next regular meeting on September 5th next and that the Secretary-Treasurer be instructed to mail to Mr. E. E. Tory the necessary notice required under Section 306 of the Town Act of the Province of Alberta.

On motion, Council was regularly adjourned.

CROP REPORT

General—While the outlook in Alberta is slightly improved by recent rains, heat and continued drought have caused further deterioration in Saskatchewan and Manitoba where crops are maturing too rapidly. Fair to good yields are indicated in northern areas of Alberta and Manitoba and in Northeastern Saskatchewan. Other areas generally are poor, with total failure and feed shortage indicated in many districts. Damage by grasshoppers continues over southeastern areas. In Quebec rain, which had been so badly needed of late, fell during the past week, with beneficial effect in many parts of the Province. In Ontario the continued drought is taking serious toll of the crops generally, and is causing some concern in many parts of the Province. Recent rains have been beneficial in Ottawa Valley and in certain northern sections. In the Maritime Provinces, with growing conditions good, crops continue to progress satisfactorily, although rain is now needed. In British Columbia, weather conditions have been favorable, but rain would now be beneficial in some districts. Details follow:

ALBERTA—Northwestern Area.—Wheat crop on summerfallow is average, but stubble wheat and coarse grains are poor.

Southeastern Area.—Crops generally are poor and in some districts will return seed only.

Western Area.—Crops in the northern districts are fair to good. With the exception of those on irrigated land, they are poor in the south where feed shortage is imminent. Frost damage is heavy in a few districts. Sugar beets continue favorable.

Saskatchewan.—Northern Area.—Crops are doing fairly well in eastern districts but reports from the central and western areas are unsatisfactory and indicate that a serious feed situation is developing.

Southern Area.—Yields of all grains will be poor except in isolated sections, and farmers are cutting crops for feed in many districts. North of the C. P. R., main line from Moose Jaw east conditions are fair to good.

Manitoba.—Due to premature ripening, harvesting has commenced early. While some fair to good yields are indicated, particularly in northern districts, most of the crops over southern and central areas are poor. Coarse grains are generally light and in many instances are being cut for feed.

Brownlee is Called East

Unexpectedly early calling together of the Dominion commission to probe the entire question of banking and finance, the first meeting of which will be held at Ottawa on Tuesday next, has necessitated Premier J. E. Brownlee altering his plans.

He had left on Tuesday for Sylvan Lake, where he had hoped to spend a week or ten days before proceeding to Ottawa.

On Wednesday afternoon he received a message calling him to Ottawa.

As a result, it is expected that he will return here on Friday, attend to some details of administration and on Saturday morning at the latest, entrain for Ottawa.

A meeting he had been billed to address at Bentley on Friday will hear J. Russell Love, U.F.A. member of the legislature for Wainwright, who will also substitute for the Premier at a pair of meetings next week.

Rev. Wm R. Glen, Baltimore, Maryland.

"And he said unto him, O Lord wherever shall I save Israel? Behold my family is the poorest in Manasseh, and I am the least in my father's house." Judges 6:15.

God makes use of little things. He employs small and apparently insignificant persons and things to accomplish his great and far-reaching plans and purposes. Paul expresses this truth, when he writes to the Corinthians: "For behold your calling brethren, that not many wise
after the flesh, not many mighty, not many noble, are called, but God chose the foolish things of the world that he might put to shame them that are wise, and God chose the weak things that he might put to shame the things that are strong." The Master gives us the same thought when he prays: "I thank thee, O Father, Lord of heaven and earth, that thou listest these things from the wise and understanding, and didst reveal them unto babes."

In the Scripture we have numerous illustrations of God's proneness to exalt the weak and humble, and to confound the proud and mighty; we have frequent examples of the high brought low, and the low lifted up.
A little babe is found hidden away
among the bulrushes along the river's bank. He is raised up and taught.
In the palace of the king. Later he is trained and disciplined in the hills and solitary places, keeping company with the flocks and herds, until he is called to be the great deliverer and lawgiver of his people.
The little babe has grown to be a wise and able Moses.

A young lad, a shepherd boy, the youngest in a family of brothers, is called from the care of the sheep to be the king of his people. The shepherd lad, the caretaker of the sheep, comes to be King David, in many respects the greatest of all Israel's kings.

Bethlehem, Ephrath, is one of the smallest and least important of all the cities of Judah, and yet it is giving undying fame, as the city of this same David, and as the birthplace of one far mightier than David or any of the earth's rulers and kings.
A little lad with a few loaves and fishes, is employed by the Master in feeding and satisfying the hunger of a great multitude of persons. We might multiply incident after incident
where God uses the weak, the humble, the poor, the lowly, person and instrument to accomplish large and far-reaching results.

Let these suffice as we turn to the text of the morning and hear the response of a certain man to the call of God to go forth to save His people Israel from enemies who were working upon them like the bees. "And he said, 'O Lord, where ever shall I save Israel? Behold my family is the poorest in Manasseh, and I am the least in my father's house.'"

Who was this man so filled with a sense of his own littleness and weakness in the face of the task he was called upon to perform? So file with a feeling of the insignificance and lowliness of his own family.
The man is Gideon, called of God to go forth to deliver Israel from the Midianites and Amalekites, who were harassing and destroying his people.

Gideon, as you recall, lived in very unhappy and troublesome days for Israel, the days of the Judges, when Israel was getting settled in the land of Canaan, when the weak and scattered tribes were being assailed by the heathen peoples around them, an when Israel was divided and torn by contention and strife among its tribes themselves.

This story of Gideon is highly interesting and dramatic, the details we do not have time to dwell upon, but the main points are familiar: how the people faltered to his standard the way in which the large part of his army was set aside, until with a little band of three hundred men, equipped with the beginning of the trumpets, pitchers, and lamps, they surrounded and encompassed the destruction of the great host of the Midianites and Amalekites. This striking story of Gideon and his band is a further illustration of the truth announced at the beginning of these little things—"Not by might, not by power, but by my spirit saith the Lord."

But now I am thinking of another man than Gideon: I am thinking of a man whom God raised up to save his people America, to deliver them from the envy and hatred of enemies without, and to deliver them from cruel and bitter strife and division within. I am thinking of Abraham Lincoln, whom God raised up and lifted up to save America
when this country was passing thro' deep and troubled waters. The response of Lincoln to God's call was in the spirit of Gideon. In leaving his friends and old home at Springfield for his first inauguration, he said, "I now leave, not knowing when or whether ever I may return, with a task before me greater than that which rested upon Washington. Without the assistance of that Divine Being (who ever attended him) I cannot succeed. With that assistance
I cannot fail."

Few who are remaining are old enough to remember the dark days of the Civil War, the black clouds which hung over the nation, and overshadowed the hearts and homes of the people. Sixty-five years have passed since the Civil War ended, and those terrible days are a distant memory. Only a few of those who walked with steady and confident tread in the ranks of Grant and Lee, Jackson and Sherman, remain; and they with unsteady and aged tread
are hurrying to answer the last roll call.

Many of us do recall vividly the days of the World War, the uncertainty, distress, sorrow, and suffering those days brought to America, the cares and burdens that were placed upon President Woodrow Wilson;
yet those days were not as the days of the Civil War, when North was arrayed against South, when armies of devastation marched through the land, when kinsman fought kinsman and brother was arrayed against brother, when death entered a multitude of homes, when the destiny of the nation hung in the balance—when sad, lonely, heavy-burdened men
sat in the white house.

Like Gideon, Lincoln was raised up from very humble circumstances and surroundings. His early home was poor and simple; his parents were plain and uneducated; he drank deep and often from the cup of poverty.
How applicable are the words of the text: "Behold my family is the poorest in Manasseh, and I am the least in my father's house." Of himself Lincoln said, "Being a humble instrument in the hands of our heavenly Father, I desire that all my words and acts may be according to his will; and that it may be so, I give thanks to the Almighty and seek his aid."

Many things, to be sure, have played a part in shaping Lincoln in the heart of America: the simplicity and lowliness and the condition-under which he was born, and such his days of childhood and youth;
he struggled with poverty and adversity, and the way in which he overcame these and gained for himself education and position; the unimpaired honesty and homely humor so evident in his life; the rushing burdens and overwhelming sorrows which he bore during the Civil War; his tragic martyrdom
just as he had led the nation through war to peace; but above and beyond all these I would say it is Lincoln's humility that lays hold upon our factions. He was numbered among the great multitudes of common people, whom he said, "God must have loved so much, he made so many of them." Although he came to fill his exalted position he never lost his touch with common men.

The babe of the log cabin, the child of the back woods, the son of the poor, God lifted up and made to be a ruler of his people, a saviour of the nation, a liberator of slaves; God raised up Abraham Lincoln to hold a place among the world's truly great and noble, and the passing of the years only serves to add new honor to his name and luster to his greatness.

Now, in concluding, I am thinking of one other than Lincoln and of Gideon; I am thinking of One whom God raised up to be a Prince and Savior of all people, to save them from a far worse state than that of Israel in the time of the Judges, and from a more galling and burdensome slavery than that experienced under the Negro slaves in America; I am thinking of One who was born in a stable, cradled in a manger, lifted up on a cross, that he might save from the cross, poverty, and penalty of sin.

God raised Jesus up, and "hath given him a name which is above every name: That at the name of Jesus every knee should bow, of things in heaven and things in earth,
and things under the earth; and that every tongue should confess that Jesus Christ is Lord to the glory of God the Father."

WEDDING

RAINBRIDGE — DUNN

The marriage of Miss Jean Katherine Dunn, daughter of Dr. and Mrs.
W. C. Dunn, and the Rev. Wesley Bainbridge, of Edgerton, son of Mr.
William Bainbridge, of Cumberland,
England, was solemnized at the home of the bride's parents on Thursday evening last, the Rev. Dr. William Hollingsworth, of Calgary, and the Rev. William Grant, pastor of Metropolitan church, officiating.

The bride given in marriage by her father, was a charming figure in white chiffon organdie with Venetian lace over white satin. Her flowers were pink roses and lilies-of-the-valley in an old-fashioned bouquet.

Position German
Housewife
Undergoes Important Changes

BERLIN, Aug. 4.—Under Hitler,

the position of German woman is rapidly undergoing a decided change.
Woman, according to the Nazi creed, have but one fundamental duty: to breed sons for the German State.
The campaign to get women out of business is very active. One of its chief weapons is a government offer of 1,000 marks ($250) to every woman who marries—and quits her job.
This proposal, it is reported, is not meeting with overwhelming success.
Its apparent generosity is being inspected even in the German.

It is safe to predict that it is women who will eventually suffer
most under Hitlerism. One of them, just returned from a holiday on the Bosnian coast, wrote and said, to her correspondent with a sigh:
"Ah, in Belgium, this was Paradise!"
Then she added, significantly, "No politics."

But they keep on anyhow, these German women, healthy-looking, robust, cheerful, cooking good, big meals for their families, standing by loyalty while their men-folk squabble
over abstractions of government.
Lacking something perhaps in Conquetry, they make it up in comradeship and zest for life.

OPERATION OF HITLER'S PROPOSED CASTE SYSTEM

Under the Hitler program, it is the German women who must suffer
anyhow, whether or not Germany ever is able to go to war again. For the Hitler program reduces "Materialism" to a minor place in the national life. Patriotic fervor for the state is to take its place.

Since it is "materialism" which makes life easy for women, by inducing them to use the most important devices, by a good standard of living, in their homes, and harder on them. Sacrifices for patriotism are splendid—but somebody has to make the meals and wash
the dishes and produce the babies.

It is these little chores that Adolph Hitler envisages as most important for the women of Germany in his non-materialistic theory of society,
which is to provide for the division of Germany into a virtual caste system under which the race is to fulfill its duty towards the Oganic
State.

The proposed German caste system is to function through the establishment of the five "Estades," which may be translated, "estates,"
which are agricultural, industry,
handicraft, trade, and the professions.

The principle under which they are to function seems to be pure Hinduism. A member of one of the "estates" must not aspire to advance into another. In his estate the member will have certain rights and duties. But he is to remain in it.
"Choicemaker, stick to your lot."
Direction and control of the Estates will not be vested in the Estates themselves, but will be imposed from above, and upon the body, controlling all is appointed by Hitler.
Minor power will trickle down from his supreme head; will not rise from the ranks as under democracy.

Still Discussing Railway Pay Cut

MONTREAL, Aug. 4.—"We have not yet on any decision on a strike vote yet and from the way things look we may not be through with these discussions until late tomorrow," said J. D. Ward, chairman of the conference of general chairmen of the railway workers' trade unions who are meeting here to decide what means they will use to combat a 20 per cent reduction in basic wages, enforced by both the Canadian National and Canadian Pacific railways.
The general chairman are tabulating results of a ballot recently taken of their membership throughout the country.

Real Light On Russia.

So many conflicting reports as to conditions in Soviet Russia have been given to the public in recent years, and it has been so difficult to distinguish in such reports what is pure propaganda either for or against the political and economic systems now prevailing in that vast country, that people have developed the habit of shrugging their shoulders when Russia is mentioned and refusing to place reliance on that which is told them. It is, therefore, with unusual interest that delegates to the World's Grain Conference at Regina listened to the first hand knowledge which was brought to them by Mr. J. Stirmman, consulting engineer of Brooklyn, Iowa, who was employed by the Soviet Government for several years in connection with its gigantic plans for the mechanization of agriculture as part of its famous five-year plan.

Mr. Stirmman had no political axe to grind, he had no propaganda to spread. He merely told an unvarnished story to the assembled world grain experts of the situation as he personally knew it to exist in Russia. And inasmuch as agricultural development in Russia cannot but have a direct effect on agriculture in Western Canada, it is of interest and value to have Mr. Stirmman's first-hand information.

Quoting Litvinoff, Soviet Commissar of Foreign Relations, as stating at Geneva last June that "unemployment, wage cuts, and strikes were unknown in the land of the Soviet," Mr. Stirmman commented that they were impossible in a country "where bread cars are granted only to the obedient worker." Control of the country's food supply precluded strikes, he said. There is no unemployment because the country's economy takes no account of any but the workers—the unfortunate does not officially exist. There is no necessity for wage cuts for the money the government pays its workers has no value outside Russia. It is paper money and will not be honored for one nickel on a purchase abroad, or on a purchase of imported goods within Russia, Mr. Stirmman explained.

Nevertheless there is wage-cutting in a sense, Mr. Stirmman giving the following example: The Soviet Government floats government loans each year, requiring each worker to turn back a part of his wages for bonds. In a fair job it amounts to a month's wages, which he could use for food. The worker feels this keenly but he does not complain.

Russian workers, he continued, by report always poverty stricken, as a whole today have the worst living conditions of any of the workers of their neighboring countries in Europe. The Russian could meet conditions in his plodding peasant life, but uprooted and the reserve supplies taken from him, he has no way to cope with winter's cold and the fearful winter hunger. The food supply available to Russian workers has fallen off in quantity steadily since 1928. Clothing, bedding and shoe supply are reduced to almost nothing. Housing has become more and more congested in the industrial and agricultural centres promoted by the Soviet.

Describing the system of farming, Mr. Stirmman said farmers lived in villages going out to farm their own individual strips of land. Throwing the land into collective farms was only to obliterate the dividing lines by farming them in one unit. These collective farms were established before the State farms. The State farms were designed as models in each section for collective and communal. Khrushchov takes, no right to purchase, the possibility of fine as an enemy of the plan, and the promise of machinery through the government on their collective quickly brought 90 per cent. of the farmers into collectives in the great drives of 1930 and 1931.

A Soviet State farm is never an independent farm in the western world sense. It remains only the link in a vast network of farms, with Moscow as the centre from which emanates all plans, orders and supplies. The man directing these farms is not often an agriculturist nor even an engineer. The entire crop is wheat.

State farms are under the direction of a resident farm superintendent. He has several assistants, all with offices and residences in the main settlements. There are directors of the institute, the experimental station, and of grain production. Each of these has further assistants, the number ever growing without end. All were specialists and did no manual labor. The administrative class grows larger and the working class relatively smaller. More and more offices are required and more desks to put in them. The working class gains recruits from only the more remote districts and in the seasons of intensive work the women are brought in as "pinch hitters." Now, in 1933, it has become necessary to drive the office class back to the farm.

Describing how everything is centralized in Moscow, how even a practical director of a State farm had to wait for orders to begin an operation on his farm that he knew was long overdue, but which, although controlling perhaps thousands of workers, he had no right to start without definite orders from Moscow, Mr. Stirmman said:

"One question looms large in looking over the situation in this modern dictatorship. How did the government get control over a vast country and over the destinies of a conglomerate people? The answer is simple: She got control of the food supply. Why should any people's government need to hold its people by such a strong leash? Because the government is the minority party, representing five to seven per cent. of the entire population. Then one wonders why do not more Russians join the Communist party and share the privileges which attend the 'party membership' in Russia today? The answer is that it is made very difficult for a Russian to join the Party, and of late only the children of Communists are allowed to join."

Everything, down to the smallest detail, is dictated from Moscow, and control maintained through a collecting, tax and shares of crop. There is never any lessening of centralization by any such name in official circles. It is always neatly explained as an increasing of power in some particular field. This brings us to a very important consideration in a government dominated by five to seven per cent. of the population and it is this, Party Men must be kept in all the major agricultural posts, regardless of ability among "comrades" because in these officials lies the power to control food, production, machinery, all expenditure, education of the worker and his family. Thus it is the control of the government in appointing men to these chief posts that they are "safe" and "good party men." That is the reason why Communists insist that "politics and farm engineering cannot be separated."

Grain Deterioration

Saskatchewan Research Workers Develop Method For Treating Damp Wheat

The practical value of the World's Grain Exhibition and Conference is revealed again in addresses contributed to discussion at the conference side of this mammoth gathering by Dr. R. K. Larmour, J. S. Clayton, and C. L. Wrenshall, of the laboratories of the University of Saskatchewan. These men have been experimenting with wet wheat, with a view to eliminating the development of heat and consequent deterioration of the grain before it reaches the driers at the head of the lakes.

Under rain seasons have not been a common thing in the agricultural life of prairie Canada of recent years, and yet on occasions we do get protracted rainy spells that carry their threat to cut grain. The three Saskatchewan scientists mentioned have developed a vaporized solution, that is held to be not inflammable in the slightest and that carries no danger to the quality of grain, but that yet effectively prevents damage from heat, mustiness and fungi in the grain consequent upon wet weather.

This would seem to represent a distinct advance in agricultural science, and that Saskatchewan men have been able to reproduce this treatment and impart it to the World's Grain Conference will be a matter of satisfaction to all citizens of this province. —Regina Leader-Post.

Maxims Of His Majesty

Rules For Life Conduct In Workroom At Buckingham Palace

An English journal in its current issue gives favorite quotations of celebrated people and shows quite clearly how many men and women whose names and deeds are known through the world fortify their lives by recalling great sayings and sentiments. This list of great people is headed by His Majesty King George and his list of quotations is worthy of being reproduced for its own sake as well as for the eminence of the one who uses it. These sentiments that hang in his workroom at Buckingham Palace read:

Teach me to be obedient to the rules of a game.
Teach me to distinguish between sentiment and sentimentality, admiring the one and despising the other.
Teach me neither to prefer nor to receive cheap praise.
If I am called upon to suffer, let me be like a well-bred beast that goes away to suffer in silence.
Teach me to win if I may; if I may teach me to be a loser.
Teach me neither to cry for the moon, nor to cry over spilled milk.

There is a fine philosophy of life in these various maxims, their reading enables one to understand better the wisdom and restraint and good sense and understanding usefulness of King George during his reign. Humble folk fighting life's daily battles may find some inspiration in these maxims. They are here given to that end. —Regina Leader-Post.

Round Up Criminals

International Organization Formed To Conduct Drive On Crooks

Police of several nations organized recently in Chicago the "International world police," to chase the criminal from his haunts over the globe.

The new international organization was formed at a meeting of Canadian, American and European police officials attending conferences sponsored by Barron Collier, special deputy police commissioner of New York, the international police conference, and the international association of chiefs of police. Winnipeg was represented by Chief Chris H. Newton.

Prefer Native Workers

Many thousands foreign residents in Chile are affected by a new law stipulating that 95 per cent. of all factory and office workers must be of Chilean nationality. Many will have to leave the country to seek work elsewhere. If the foreigner has been in the country 10 years, or is married to a Chilean, he will be counted as a Chilean, and he will be exempt if he is performing duties for which a native is unskilled.

Club Will Be Exclusive

Aviators who have crossed the north Atlantic alone are going to form a club. Plans for the organization were discussed by Amelia Earhart Putnam and her house guest, Captain James A. Molesworth. They broached the idea to Wiley Post, world solo flyer, who expressed approval. Col. Charles A. Lindbergh and Jimmie Mattern, the other eligibles, also will be invited to join.

Hourly Nursing Service

New Department In Nursing Is Established At Edmonton

To meet prevalent conditions, and following along lines of nursing organizations in other cities, the Edmonton Graduate Nurses' Association has organized an hourly nursing service in connection with the graduate nurses' registry.

Hourly nursing means that patients may secure skilled nursing care in the home for established periods as they find necessary to comply with medical care. This form of nursing is similar to visiting nursing, except that hourly nursing is paid for on a time basis rather than on a visit basis.

The Graduate Nurses' Association is anxious to establish periods as they are fortunate in establishing it under the graduate nurses' registry. The patient, nurse and community are thus in a position to benefit from an organized nursing service. This nursing service, in whatever capacity it is administered, will be with the co-operation of the medical profession.

Vimy Ridge Memorial

Undertaking Which Is Not Yet Completed, Is Massive In Conception

The memorial on Vimy Ridge, which four Canadian divisions and the Thirteenth British Brigade of West Kent and Scots stormed in April, 1917, is not yet completed fifteen years after the Armistice. But it is an undertaking massive in conception, on 240 acres 200 feet above the Douai Plain, and designed to be worthy of a victory of which Sir Douglas Haig said: "The capture of the renowned Vimy Ridge is an achievement of the highest order and of which Canada may well be proud." It was fitting that the sculptor should be a Canadian, Walter S. Allward, who won an award that was open to the British Empire. Since 1925 he has been engaged on the work in a London studio. "All the time," he says, "I have sought to avoid any mention of dead-beating. Canada mourns her dead in the way I have endeavored to show in the Mother Spirit, which stands with drooped head on the wall, brooding over the plain on which her sons fell. Sorrow but not valing is there." Blocks of from twelve to twenty tons were required, and they were found in an old Roman quarry in Yugoslavia, from which the stone to build the Palace of Diocletian in Spalato in the third century was taken.

The common cause of France and Canada is to be represented by twin pylons 138 feet high. Below them will be seen the Spirit of Sacrifice in twenty heroic figures grouped at the base of a wall 237 feet long, the base of the memorial. Surmounting the pylons will appear in relief Peace, Justice, Truth and Knowledge. The design calls for the covering of mouths of guns along the base by olive branches and laurel. The memorial should be ready for dedication on Dominion Day next year. The approaches will be by avenues of pines grown in Canada and France.

In F. A. McKenzie's "Canada's Day of Glory" may be read the breathless story of the capture of Vimy Ridge. A Canadian correspondent, he does justice to the part the men of Kent and Scotland played in that immortal feat of arms. The dedication would not be adequate without the presence of the commander of the troops engaged, Sir Julian Byng, Governor-General of Canada from 1921 to 1926—New York Times.

Canadian Legion At Tokio

Structure Nearly Completed and Will Be Soon Ready For Occupancy

It is understood that work on the Canadian legion in Tokio is proceeding rapidly and that the structure will shortly be ready for the occupancy of Hon. Herbert Mat'ar, Canadian minister to Japan. While no official statement has been given out by the government, it is learned that Mr. Marier, on the occasion of his last visit to Ottawa, urged upon the government the advisability of going ahead with the legion construction so that advantage might be taken of the low costs of labor and materials.

The only opposition to the scheme was the scarcity of money for erecting rapidly and that the structure would not be described as absolutely essential. Long term financing was arranged, however, and the work has been in progress some time. It is expected a statement will be issued by the government shortly.

A Genius For Organizing

Lord of Thousand Ships Was Millionaire At Thirty-Nine

One of the reasons why the "sun never sets on the British flag" was the organizing genius of Sir John Ellerman, son of a German bookkeeper. Sir John died recently in France, but in a hundred ports from Southampton to Sydney, his flag is flying on the ships which keep Britain first on the seas.

It was quite appropriate that Ellerman, the ship owner, should be the wealthiest man in Britain, whose life and prosperity depend upon sea-borne commerce. A few years back when many values had not flown so far as they have today, Sir John's wealth was estimated at from $100,000,000 to $300,000,000. That put him far ahead of any other Britisher and in the Henry Ford and Rockefeller class. Even today the thrifty British are calculating that the nation will collect $67,000,000 in death duties.

The Ellerman career, like that of Sir Thomas Lipton, proved that the art of being a self-made man bears no American patent. Ellerman rose from the humble place of black-coated English clerk in a shipping office. By 39 he was a millionaire. By 50 he owned one-eighth of all the British shipping.

He was frugal in a nation where somewhat free spending is the tradition of the wealthy. He never owned a yacht or a racing stable. It was said in the city that he never spent more than 5 per cent. of a year's income. The rest went into ships and more ships, land—he owned a large chunk of London—and newspapers. At one time his newspaper holdings rivalled those of Northcliffe. But Ellerman never shared Arthur Harmsworth's passion for political influence. He was content to collect the dividends and let the other men advise the cabinet.

Move Settlers North

Settlers In Drouth Stricken Areas Of Southern Alberta To Go North

The Alberta government and the railways have agreed to share the costs of moving about 150 settlers from drouth-stricken areas in southern Alberta, and only decision of the Dominion government as to its share in the project is awaited, according to Hon. George Hoadley, Alberta minister of agriculture.

The settlers will be moved to more favorable areas in northern Alberta.

TO MAKE CAREFUL INVESTIGATION OF BANKING SYSTEM

Quebec, Que.—A careful and business-like study of Canada's banking and credit system is the aim of Lord Macmillan, who, arrived from London on the liner "Empress of Britain," to head the royal commission recently appointed for that purpose.

"We want to do something really useful for Canada," said the author of the Macmillan report, made three years ago on the similar problem in England. "We are taking this very seriously and we need the goodwill of the Canadian people to make it a success."

Lord Macmillan, 44, making his fourth trip to Canada, in seven years and is no stranger to Canada. "I am practically a Canadian," he said. "I sit on the privy council on many Canadian appeals and on my first visit to Canada I was counsel for Canada in the Labrador boundary case."

Sir Charles Adair, the other English member of the commission, was also on board the "Empress" and expressed himself as keenly interested in the case ahead of him. Both Lady Macmillan and Lady Adair accompanied their husbands.

A former lord advocate of Scotland, Lord Macmillan proved to be a most affable and friendly personage and humorously described himself as an "orra man." "In Scotland," he said, "we call an old job person an 'orra man,' and that's what I am. I am not an expert banker and this is really a side line."

There will be only five members on the commission, the Canadian members being Sir Thomas White, former minister of finance; Hon. J. E. Brownlee, Premier of Alberta, and Beaudry Leman, president of La Banque Canadienne Nationale.

He expects to complete the inquiry within two months but the report may not be made to the government until later in the year.

The report of the commission will form the basis for the decennial revision of the Canadian Bank Act, which was due last session of parliament but was postponed one year in order that this inquiry might be instituted.

All important business centres will be visited by the commission and those who have anything to contribute to the success of the inquiry will be given a hearing. The concluding session will be held in Ottawa.

Wheat Pool Payment

Further Payment May Be Made In October

Edmonton, Alberta.—Possibility exists a further payment may be made to wheat pool members on the 1930 crop if present increased wheat prices continue, according to Premier J. E. Brownlee of Alberta.

Mr. Brownlee said the pool, which handled the crop under the guidance of John I. McFarland, of Winnipeg, may show a profit due to wheat values jump recently. "There would seem to be good reason for using such profits by way of partial equalization, at least, of payments on the 1930 crop," the Alberta premier added.

Bank Act Inquiry

Is Expected To Be Completed Early In October

Edmonton, Alberta.—Inquiry into operations of the Bank Act by the royal commission, announced by the Dominion government, is expected to be completed early in October, according to Premier J. E. Brownlee of Alberta, selected as a member of the commission.

Mr. Brownlee revealed Prime Minister R. B. Bennett had invited him to join the commission before the Canadian government head left for London to attend the world economic conference.

War On Kidnapping

President Roosevelt Maps Out Plan To Control Menace

Hyde Park, N.Y.—President Roosevelt mapped a war against kidnapping and racketeering with his intimate adviser, Raymond Moley, an authority on crime, and scanned every available federal statute to aid an immediate campaign.

To beat down kidnapping he is counting on a super police force, already in organization and at work, to co-operate with state authorities.

Loan Easily Subscribed

Fine Reception Accorded Canadian Loan On London Market

London, Eng.—The most optimistic expectations were borne out when the bids for the new Canadian loan of £15,000,000 were closed directly after they had been opened.

It was understood, although not officially announced, that the first mail of the day had brought a substantial over-subscription.

The enthusiastic reception accorded the first Canadian loan on the London money market in 20 years was fully up to the welcoming comments of financial authorities after announcement of the loan last week, summed up by financial correspondents of the daily newspapers who called today "Canada's day."

Success of the loan will promote the financial co-operation between London and Ottawa "which is necessary if the policy of last week's empire declaration is to be made effective," said the Times.

That declaration called for closer financial relationships with stability of exchanges and directly preceded the re-entry of the Dominions into the London loan market.

Today's loan was in four per cent bonds, sold at par and with no discount for cash, in 20 and 25-years issues. The proceeds will not go outside the empire, but it is understood they will be used to pay uncovered victory bonds of 5½ per cent, redeemable this fall.

Blames Newspapers

Code Of Ethics Needed In Treatment Of Crime News

Chicago.—A special code of ethics for treatment of crime news by newspapers as an aid to law enforcement officials was asked by Malcolm W. Bingley, editorial director of the Detroit Free Press.

Addressing the International Association of Chiefs of Police, Bingley placed partial responsibility for the rise of the gangster upon what he termed the "sensational, irresponsible and scandal mongering element of the press."

The element, he declared, had served as publicity agent for the criminal.

Make Heavy Payment

Saskatchewan Pool Elevator Issue Cheque For Large Amount

Regina, Sask.—The Saskatchewan Pool Elevators recently paid $1,454,614 to the liquidators of the Saskatchewan Co-Operative Elevator Company in final payment on the purchase price of 1928.

With the exception of a payment on a mortgage to the Saskatchewan provincial government of $97,500 plus interest, which is to be paid at the end of this month, the entire liability has disappeared from the books of the pool.

The purchase price of all the assets in 1926 was $11,061,269.

Paris, France.—Leon Trotsky was reported to have failed in a desperate effort to get the Soviet foreign minister, Maxim Litvinov, to help him return to Moscow. The exiled Russian revolutionary is journeying with Mme. Trotsky near Royat, France. Litvinov, reports said, refused to help him.

Mergers Better Than Combines

Toronto, Ont.—"The day must never come when we have a combine, but a merger is a different thing," Mayor W. J. Stewart of Toronto told the Funeral Service Association of Ontario in convention here. "If we have so many small establishments the public is called upon to share an overhead which is unfair," he said.

Flashlight Lightning

Minden, Ont.—Perhaps lightning never strikes the same spot twice; but it comes pretty close to it five beds of cattle in the farm of Dan Gibby were killed by lightning recently. Last autumn a lightning bolt on the same farm was struck and burned to the ground.

Frost Damages Wheat

Will Be Used For Cattle Feed In Southern Alberta Area

Calgary, Alberta.—July frost attacks on the High River-Blackie area of Southern Alberta, has injured 30,000 tons of wheat, which will now be used as cattle feed, it was revealed at a meeting of farmers and ranchers here.

The meeting, attended by Hon. George Hensley, Alberta Minister of Agriculture, was held to ascertain feed conditions in the district.

Drouth also has seriously affected the district and plans were being made to solve the feed problem this fall with the aid of the cabinet minister who declared there was grave danger cattle would be sacrificed by holders during the coming months unless something was done about the situation.

Encounters Obstacles

Dog Musher From The Pas May Not Reach Chicago Fair

Winnipeg, Manitoba.—Pat Campbell, famed northland dog musher, has almost given up hope of reaching the World's Fair at Chicago with his team of racing huskies.

Campbell, and two companions, mushed the 500-mile trail from The Pas to Winnipeg, arriving here 15 days ago. Since then he has been trying to arrange for entrance to the United States, and has appealed to Chicago fair officials for aid.

Immigration authorities demand a bond of $200 each for Campbell and his aides and another bond of $2 apiece for the seven dogs in his team.

U. S. PRESIDENT APPROVES LARGE NAVAL PROGRAM

Hyde Park.—President Roosevelt has approved plans of the United States navy for construction of 21 new war ships in the $238,000,000 building program.

The president carefully analysed the bids recently received by the navy and the allotments decided on by the commanders. His approval signalled an immediate start on work providing jobs for thousands in government and private shipyards.

Admiral William Standley, chief of naval operations, and Rear Admiral Emory Land, chief of construction, brought the naval construction program to the summer White House by seaplane.

Mr. Roosevelt talked the plans over with his naval chiefs and after giving his approval left with them the formal announcement of assignments to yards for construction of the ships.

The start of America's huge naval construction comes just after word from Japan of the start of a building program there.

Mr. Roosevelt's ship building plan comes under the public works program and is intended to give the American fleet the strength it is allowed under existing naval limitations agreements.

Both Republicans and Democrats in congress have urged that the American fleet be built up to the terms allowed by the London agreement.

About $46,000,000 is to be expended this year and a total of $238,000,000 over three years.

BRITAIN'S AIR MINISTER BECOMES A PILOT

Lord Londonderry, British Secretary of State for Air, evidently believes in practicing what he preaches. Two weeks ago he gained his "A" certificate for flying and a commercial license. Lord Londonderry's youngest daughter, Lady Mary Stewart, who is not yet 13, is rapidly becoming an accomplished flyer. Our pictures show Lord Londonderry in the cockpit of his plane and inset is a photograph of Lady Margaret.

Churchill Port Opening

Formal Opening May Be Postponed Until Next Season

Ottawa, Ont.—Hon. R. J. Manion, Minister of Railways and Canals, stated that formal opening of the port of Churchill will, in all probability, not take place until next year.

In response to a question by E. M. Stitt, M.P. for Nelson, Dr. Manion stated in the House last session that the official ceremony would probably take place this season. However, it is the desire not only of the Minister, but of the government, and the Prime Minister himself, that the latter should be present at the opening.

George Hensley, Alberta Minister of Agriculture, are expected to attend the royal welcome being prepared to Freland Wilford, winner of the world wheat king crown at Regina World's Wheat Exhibition and Conference, at Stately, where his farm is located. TRIBUTE IS PAID TO OLD TIMERS OF THE WEST

Prince Albert.—"The real makers of a nation," to quote Rt. Hon. Mackenzie King, passed before cheering thousands at the fair here. Men and women, some wearing the century mark, with grey hair, skins tanned by prairie sun and wind and shoulders bowed by toil, walked by the grandstand in the "old timers" parade.

Some were in their prime when the Riel rebellion shook the frontier district. They had served at Batoche, and Duck Lake, they knew those stormy days and they knew Riel.

The parade, in which veterans of the prairies who had lived in this district for more than 40 years were eligible to take part, drew from Mr. King words of admiration. In his speech opening Citizens' Day, the Liberal leader referred to "the splendid band of old timers—pioneers in settlement and government, who have helped to build up Canada."

This is the golden anniversary of the Prince Albert fair. Today it drew to the platform men prominent in the life of the province and the Dominion. With Mr. King were: Sir Frederick Haultain, Chief Justice of Saskatchewan; Hon. J. F. Bryant, Minister of Public Works in the government of the province; T. C. Davis, a former attorney-general, and Charles Young, president of the Prince Albert Agricultural Society.

The Liberal leader expressed regret that the death of his mother had prevented Hon. J. T. M. Anderson, Premier of Saskatchewan, from attending the opening.

Introduced as "one of the outstanding real old timers of the west," Sir Frederick Haultain paid a tribute to the pioneer women of Saskatchewan. "We take off our hats to the old timers, but we take them off and keep them off to the women," he said.

Mr. Bryant, representing Premier Anderson, followed with the greetings of the government and people of Saskatchewan. He also expressed his pleasure at being on the same platform with the leader of the Liberal party. Some interesting facts about the pioneer people of Prince Albert were told to the gathering by Mr. Bryant. Mr. Young introduced the speakers.

Then followed the parade. As the "old timers" marched by those on the platform rose in tribute to be followed by the great crowd in the stands. The parade smiled as a cheer arose. A tribute to their achievement for Canada.

INTER-EMPIRE MIGRATION PLANS ARE ADVANCED

Quebec, Que.—Convinced the time has arrived for Canada to embark on a "definite, moderate policy of immigration, particularly from Great Britain," E. W. Beatty, president of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company, returned from a visit to the United Kingdom. Mr. Beatty arrived with Hon. E. N. Rhodes, Minister of Finance, and the Canadian delegation to the World Economic Conference, on board the "Empress of Britain."

"The paucity of our population is still a drawback in view of the external and internal obligations of Canada," said Mr. Beatty. "I do not think this country has anything to fear from a deliberate but, of course, not extreme policy of admission of these of our own race in particular."

Plans for inter-empire migration were being very carefully worked out in the United Kingdom, he added, and there was hope of some results in a year or two.

Great progress in materially and financially is being made in the United Kingdom, said the railway chief. He believed the country's position was stronger than it had been for a long time.

British shipowners, he said, were tackling their problems in a serious way and he looked for important new policies respecting trade routes and possibly the elimination of the obsolete shipping. There might also be consideration of assistance from the government to put British shipping on a par with that of other countries which had received generous assistance.

Trans-Canada Flight

Proposal Made For Millions To Fly Across Canada

Vancouver, B.C.—Prospect of Captain James and Amy Molison making a flight across Canada, possibly non-stop, is envisioned in communications exchanged between the flying couple and Mayor Louis D. Taylor.

Replying to an invitation to visit Vancouver, the Molisons wired "Many thanks for your kind wishes. We shall certainly bear in mind the possibility of making such a flight as you suggest. Unfortunately our new machine will not be available for some time."

The mayor, at the suggestion of Ald. W. J. Twiss, chairman of the airport committee, and Manager William Tompkins, wired the Molisons in New York that a trans-Canada flight would be of considerable interest to British aviation and added that a machine is available in Toronto. He referred them to Mrs. Amelia Earhart of Oshkosh, whose guests they have been, and who was a recent visitor to the airport here.

Big Fish—Happy Fisherman

Hook a 35 pound musky for yourself like this one and then sympathize with J. A. Gibson of Toronto who fought for four and a half hours near French River Bungalow Camp 215 miles north of Toronto, to land it. It is the seventh musky to be caught near the camp by guests this season and was caught on Friday, July 21st. So a fisherman's luck seems to be a complication of opinion. The scene took place late in the afternoon right in front of the outlying camp dock in full view of guests who lined the shore and started fires in order to see the finish, forgetting dinner and later celebrating the latest entry in the bungalow camp annual musky competition fittingly. Since every musky to date has practically been larger than the last, the winner of the challenge shield this year may become famous... if he can land it.
